What is an "alterative"? A medicine that alters or changes unhealthy action to healthy action. Aver's tion to healthy action. Ayer's Sarsaparilla does all this without stimulation. Ask your doctor if a famlly medicine, like Ayer's Sarsaparilla, is not vastly better without alcohol than

PACIFIC DEVELOPMENT CO.

Manager Turner of the Pacific De velopment Company came down from Hawaii on Tuesday and returned Saturday afternoon on the Mauna Kea. He reports the cane planted in July last to be above the mule's back and in splendid condition. The company has made a contract with H. Hackfeld & Co., Ltd., for financing the planting of cane and for such other business as may require money at this time. One hundred acres additional will be put in cane at once and the timber on the estate is being cleared for the purpose of scaling the planting to proceed. castate is being cleared for the purpose of enabling the plowing to proceed. There will be no tapping of rubber this season owing to the clearing that is being done, the men and money being required for that line of work. There are 230 acres of rubber trees that will bear tapping now and about fifty acres of cultivated awa trees. The awa will produce $60,000 within two years time. In addition to this there are several patches of wild taro that would yield well now but will not be eropped until roads are built through. Taro is a valuable crop, bringing about $80 a ton, and in no place in the island is it cultivated to greater extent than in Puna, where this company has its plantation.

TO CITY POLICE TO PRESERVE ORDER

Military Authorities Have No Wish to Infringe Civil Jurisdiction.

"Headquarters of the department of Hawaii has never been officially notified and can do some pulling, I can assure whenever large numbers of soldiers The adjutant general stated that > "It is really up to the police of the city to do police duty, not the mili-tary, and if they have not enough police then a sufficient number should be prothen a sufficient number should be provided. The military does not engage in the work of doing police duty in a city, not being desirous of interfering with the civil authorities. It is true, however, that the troops in this Island are a very large number. I hope there will be no occasion for a guard of the kind suggested."

> The adjutant general believes in law and order thoroughly, but when occasion demands believes in letting the civil authorities exercise their authority within their own jurisdiction, as the military authorities do in theirs.

The suggeston came to The Advertiser and was transmitted to the military headquarters because of statements that on paydays enlisted men who im-bibe too much liquor are forgetful of the fact that women pass along the streets and they object to the flow of profate language to which they are often subjected.
